

"FATHER BELL'S" NICE AFTERNOON.

Sage of Hartford's Horses Win in Style at the Aqueduct Track.

GOOD FOR MORRIS BLOOD.

Three of the Five Events Go to Animals Bred by Either Morris or Walden.

DELIGHTFUL DAY AT THE COURSE

Blue Sky, Warm Breeze, no Wrangles, and as Well-Backed Horses Capture Purses All Are Happy Except the "Layers."

By Francis Trevelyan.

Events moved calmly and placidly at the Aqueduct race course yesterday. A warm land breeze helped to further the illusion that Summer had really come to stay. The sky was blue, the sun warm and the official mind was relieved of care, for the fields were small and the races for the most part won with a good deal to spare. Wrangles would have been out of place on such a perfect day, and as either favorites or well-backed horses won all the races, peace dwelt with backers.

"Father Bill" Daly had a nice afternoon. Pride shone on his classic brow after Volney had followed up Arabian's handsome victory by galloping his field to a finish in the last event, and winning what was about the best race ever run on the Aqueduct, judged on the merits of the winner's performance. But though Volney's race delighted the Sage of Hartford and a goodly proportion of backers, the event spelled disaster to many of the layers. Every horse of the four but Declare was well backed. Sue Kittle, despite his poor showing the last time out, was intrusted with a voluminous commission, for a large part of which "Jack" McDonald, from his European trip, was said to be responsible. Mr. McDonald got a good run for his money, but Volney was not to be denied. As good as 8 to 1 was laid against him in the opening betting, and the penning fraternity took in a great deal of money at 4 to 1, so that when it is considered that 11 to 5 was the average closing quotation, the desolation among the layers is intelligible.

Honors for Morris Blood.

The honors of the day were distributed between Daly and the Morris-Walden partnership. Of the five races on the card not less than three were won by horses bred by either the Messrs. Morris or the Messrs. Walden, and as if this were not enough, the second horses in each of these events were raised by the same persons. It is made more remarkable by the fact that in the other races on the card their studs were not represented. In fact, the only horse bred by the partnership that ran and was not first or second was Percy E. and he was so hopelessly out of it at the beginning of his race that he might just as well have been in his stable for all the chance he had left.

The Morris-Walden bred placed horses were: Surmount, still owned by the Waldens, and Brentwood, in the first race; Arabian and Paragon, in the second; Mr. Pettie and Glendine, in the fourth. There was, however, a small share of glory and, if report be true, a considerably larger amount of profit left to be absorbed by the young owner, Mr. Lambere, whose colt Kimmie won the third race. The colt ran well and won handsily, demonstrating a fair amount of profit left to be absorbed by the young owner, Mr. Lambere, whose colt Kimmie won the third race. Washington Form Misleading.

The unreliability of Washington form was demonstrated once again in the opening event, for which Brentwood, now owned by Mr. T. E. Ensign, of Princeton, N. J., was made favorite. Overt, under the whip, made a bluff, but swerved at the head of the stretch, which helped Littleton to win on the rail with Surmount, and beat the favorite with a good deal to spare. Arabian fairly roared home in the second race, Moore not having to let him down to beat Parmesan. The winner could have gone the mile in 1:42 if called upon. Volney's race was, however, one better than his stable mate's. He simply raced his field off their legs. Sue Kittle was full of running and had a her speed yesterday, but she was killed off in attempting to live with Volney.

Daly was very confident of winning, saying that Volney was in good form and that Arabian would have been, and the only fear he had was that Sherer might have a difficulty in riding too heavy to Littleton's horse. This fear was quite unfounded, for though Premier made a gallant effort to get up in the stretch, it was no good, and Volney won by a margin of 1 1/2 lengths.

Form at such a meeting as Aqueduct is apt to be most misleading, but appearances were very deceiving if Daly had been a union improved horse in Volney and an animal of at least moderate stake pretensions in Arabian.
